

State-of-the-art Market Research in Russia

Welcome to large and mysterious (even for its own inhabitants) Russia!

To the country where it is often dark and cold but sometimes hot and foggy.

Anyway, you don't see clearly what is ahead.

What if a big BEAR waits for you there?

About us

In Russia you can't do without an experienced guide, pilot or navigator. Only the person will tell you everything about the "big bear" and teach how to make friends with it.

We are such a guide.
We have been studying Russia for 26 years and it ain't so bad.

Why? Because we have knowledge, know-how, aspiration and, above all, experience!
We are ready to guide your business through a thorny path leading to success.

SOCIS MR Russia is a full service market research agency.
However fieldwork is our primary focus.

BIG Award 2017 – First Prize

Dear Roman,

As President of Business Information Group I would like to congratulate you and the staff of SOCIS for winning the BIG Award 2017 against a lot of top class competition from other European members. It means that the market research project you have submitted and presented to the membership was evaluated by fourteen European market research companies, all experts in this field, and voted best European project of the year in terms of methodology, implementation, reporting and value to your client.

You deserve the respect and acknowledgement that this award is a symbol of!

If I may add, all members of Business Information Group enjoy continuously working with you on international projects because of your reliable quality work.

Kind Regards,
Business Information Group BIG

A few references

«The research was absolutely helpful to me. It was sufficient for us to make a strategic decision regarding GORE-TEX in the Russian market, and I used the data to explain the proposed decision»

Mike Adams,
GORE-TEX Hunting Footwear Team

MEDIACOM

«Mediacom tenders thanks to its permanent partner SOCIS for conducting researches in different areas of consumer life. Great thanks for enormous difficult and laborious projects, for proper data, for ability to respond quickly to urgent requests!»

Marina Dianova,
Head of consumer Research Unit

«Our company can confidently recommend SOCIS as a reliable partner for work in Russia. The team of SOCIS has done justice to itself by realization of an extremely challenging project which included four non-standard focus groups. In spite of a tight schedule, difficulty of recruitment and the guide the project was fulfilled in full in Moscow, respondents met completely the screening criteria and the moderator could be given an "excellent grade"»

Michal Zielinski,
Managing Director

Based on the extensive research conducted by the SOCIS team in Russia, the in-depth interviews and home visits with car owners have proven to be invaluable in gaining deep insights into consumer behavior and preferences.

The meticulous approach to gathering data through these methods has provided our client (big automotive brand) with valuable information that will undoubtedly shape their marketing strategies and product development in the future.

I highly recommend the SOCIS team for their professionalism, attention to detail, and dedication to delivering actionable insights through their research efforts.
